Song 4 The Lord with the Scepter of Power

Psalm 110 – The most quoted Messianic psalm in the New Testament. Declares Jesus as both King and Priest forever in the order of Melchizedek, ruling with a mighty scepter until all enemies are under His feet.

O God who holds the scepter of power,
You reign in the midst of Your enemies.

Sit at My right hand until I make Your enemies
A footstool for Your feet.

In the day of Your power Your people will offer themselves freely,
Arrayed in holy garments, like dew from the womb of the morning.

O God who holds the scepter of power,
You reign in the midst of Your enemies.

You are a priest forever in the order of Melchizedek,
The Lord has sworn and will not change His mind.

The Lord is at Your right hand,
He will crush kings on the day of His wrath.

He will judge the nations, filling them with corpses,
He will shatter the heads of rulers over the wide earth.

O God who holds the scepter of power,
You reign in the midst of Your enemies.
